Establishment of Dr. Hiralal Chaudhuri Laboratory of Department of Industrial Fish and Fisheries

On 12th July, 2022 the department of IFF on the occasion of National Fish Farmers' Day, 2022 inaugurated the newly renovated departmental laboratory, named after Dr. Hiralal Chaudhuri, the pioneer person behind the "Blue revolution" in India in presence of Professor Sumit Home Chaudhuri, Senior Professor and Ex-Head, Department of Zoology, University of Calcutta.

To set up this laboratory as per requisition from the department one laptop, one projector and three wall hanging cabinets are purchased utilising the college fund. Besides, students of the department with great enthusiasm made aquariums and collected specimens for museum. Presently, more than 150 fish species of fresh, brackish and marine habitats have been preserved in the museum. Most of the specimens are collected from excursions organised by the department time to time. In total 11 aquariums with different varieties of ornamental fishes have also been kept to enrich the knowledge of the students.
