

JANAKI AMMAL SACRED GROVE

(Estd. in 2016 under Green Policy of the College)

Institutional Distinctiveness

Initiative of Sir Jagadish Chandra Bose Eco-Club
Department of Botany, BKC College, Kolkata-108

Migratory birds visiting the grove

Padma Shree (Dr.) Edavalath Kakkat Janaki Ammal (4th Nov. 1897-7th Feb. 1984) India
Botanist

Green Audit: an ecological and taxonomic study of Janaki Ammal Sacred Grove.

Students carrying out project work on Taxonomy, Ethnobotany and Phytosociology in the grove.

Sacred Grove at BKCC is situated in an urban area as a replication of Traditional Community based In-Situ Biodiversity Conservation practice followed by forest dwellers.

School Students interacting in the Biodiversity Museum with Dr.
Biswarupa Ghosh, Eco-Club Coordinator.

Basal Area (BA) occupied by various tree species in the Grove

Students' sensitization towards the importance of Sacred Grove in meeting many Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) because of the valuable Ecosystem Services that it provides for plants, animals, birds, insects, pollinators and city people. It is maintained by the Club and Green Team of SAP Committee of the College .